POOR old Kipling. His "Just So" stories which have been a children's classic for years are now thought to be potentially damaging to a child's our-look. And in an age where achievements have acquired an unprecedented ascenthey are.

The world knows, of course, of the dangers of myths. The last war grew out of one-Hitler's mistaken concept of the Aryan muster race. The myths of the Old Testament led divines up to two centuries ago to accept the date of the_Creation_as_9 a.m. on October 26, 4004 BCI And the difficulty of reconciling the Genesis story of the creation with the theories of Darwin and others has troubled Christians right up to the present day. Yet now science tells us that man's ancestry can be traced-back-to-fish.

When the mind is not capable of resistant and the second sec understanding facts, imagination bridges the gulf STOP PRESS between curiosity and satisfaction. To tell a child that a giraffe's long neck is due to an inexplicable mutation (which in turn necessitates explaining the difference between genes and chromosomes) is hardly whetting its appetite to probe deeper into the wonders of the world.

Childish Things

CT Paul wrote: When I was n child I spoke, understood and thought as a child, but when I became a man I put away, childish things. Is not this the enduring answer to a problem that is essentially as old as the world itself? For though there is a lot to be said for satisfying childish inquiries with as many facts us they are capable of understanding, this emphasis can be carried too

It is bad enough having to tolerate precocious, priggish and bumptious children talking parrot fashion like n school text book, but when this leads to an appeal to overthrow Kipling because of his "gooseberry bush approach" to science, does not then Alice stand in danger of a similar fate because of her unscientific Wonderland, and Peter Pan, because children cannot really fly, and Christopher Robin ... for .. whoever heard of a talking Pooh

SUBMARINES THE BIG THREAT. BRITAIN

Bournemouth, Sept. 1. Mr Tom Yates, 62-year-old general secretary of the National Union of Seamen, in his presidential address to the Trades Union Congress here today said that while it was easy to pass resolutions denouncing nuclear weapons, disarmament had to conform to an international pattern,

"When it comes to negotiating," he said, "slogans and catch-phrases must never blind us to the stark fact that it is no good throwing away all our nuclear weapons or abandoning essential alliances if we are to leave in the hands of any single power, or group of powers, a tremendous preponderance of offensive weapons of any kind.

"Our island nation can be starved by submarines. In time of war they could knock us out just as effectively, though certainly more slowly, than a shattering bombardment of H-bombs.

"Distirmament can only be achieved if it starts with an objective appraisal of the re-lative strengths, of the armed forces in the world today, and continues with a measured and comparable reduction of weapons by everyone,"

Murderers Of The Old

Bangkok, Aug. 31. That police have uncovered an alleged plat to kill old people by poisoning and collect their cremation insurance money. Police sources said their discovery followed the death by poisoning of a 70-year-old man in Kanburi, western Thailand. They said two men had brought cakes to the old man on the day of his death. The cake had been eaten by the old man and his dog and both had died,

Police enquiries had uncovered the fact that a man was touring the province saking old people without relatives to join cremation societies to pay their funeral expenses. Police alleged that this man was paying the so-

FOR AFRICAN PARTITION TERRITORY URGED BY

United Nations, New York, Sept. 1. A three-man United Nations "good offices" committee said here tonight it believed a form of partition in South West Africa might provide a basis for agreement between the world organisation and the South African govern-

It said that, under such an agreement, the Southern part of the territory would be annexed to the Against The Rest Union and the Northern part, containing the great majority of the African population, would be administered by the Union Government under a trustership agreement with the United Nations.

In a 22-page report which the Assembly is due to consider during its session opening later this month, the committee said it hoped the Assembly would encourage the Union Government to investigate the possibility of partition.

MHE new City Temple in Holborn Viaduci, London, "Cathedral' of the Free Churches, which just opened for services for the first time since it was bombed in 1941, is equipped with a "cough box." An ante-room has been provided at the back of the building for members of the congregation suffering from coughs or accompanied by children who chatter during services. Other names for the "cough box" include "cry box", the "chatter box," and "sin-bin." "We think it an excellent idea," Miss Alice M. Head, Hon. Secretary of Robuilding Committee says. "People who have troublesome coughs anxious not to disturb others can retire to this little ante-room and see and hear everything that goes on in the church through a wide window and a system of loudspeakers."

AIR PROBLEMS

The Association has carried out an analaysis of hundreds of cases handled by their solicitors since the introduction of the Magistrates' Courts Act nearly a year ago, and although it is estimated that one driver in every six says "I'm sorry" when stopped by a policeman he usually gets a summons. More important is the fact that policeman quotes "I'm sorry" in his statement of facts it may sound to the magistrates that the words imply an ad-

Al Subah dresses simply EVERYTHING—and we mean Sometimes he wears a black, camel-hair turban and a brown clock over his white robes; other times, a plain white cotton head-

> The only evidence of wealth on his person is a glittering diamond ring on his left hand. Kuwait has no absolute rule of succession. When the ruler dies, the new one is chosen from among his relatives.

That is why, when Salim al Mubarek Al Subah, ruler of Kuwait, died after the First World War, his eldest son, Abdulish did not immediately succaed to the throne, but gave way to his cousin, Sir Ahmed al Jabir Al Subah.

BRING MORE AND INTEREST ACTION IN COMING RUGGER SEASON

By "PAK LO"

The start of the rugby season now approaches, and already most of the participants are training strenuously for the coming battles, with much puffing and panting and cursing of the carefree beer-swilling days of summer.

This season also brings a new crop of amended Laws of the game, which, when they have been understood by the players and referees will greatly speed up the action, and increase the spectator interest.

IMPORT

The Hague, Aug. 31. the Dutch Government announced today it has imposed restrictions on Soviet tin.

A Foreign Ministry communique said the Government has been "forced" to take the step by Russia's refusal to become a signatory to the international agreement.

COMPLIANCE The decision of the Dutch Government, made in compliance with a request by the producermembers of the Tin Council, is based on the Dutch Government's fixed policy of supporting as much as possible any international agreement concerning natural resources, the Ministry said. Britain made a similar move yesterday. An Economic Affairs Ministry spokesman stated that the Dutch restrictions work out at a 40 per cent cut in tin imports from the Soviet Union. Holland imported 7,500 tons of Russian tin over the past 12 months.—U.P.I.

POLICEMAN RD STRUGGLE

A young beggar who struggled with a Police Constable in Nathan Road yesterday morning, and who was struck by a bullet when the PC opened fire with his revolver as he ran away, appeared in Kowioon Court this morning before Mr T. L. Yang, charged with assaulting a Police Officer. He pleaded guilty and was sentenced to five months hard

The defendant, Chung Kam-chuen, 20, was sitting in Nathan Road, opposite the Shamrock Hotel, when PC 3254. Luk Kai-hung, came along, chasing hawkers and beggars away. He asked the defendant to leave, but Chung refused and jumped up and struck the PC with a four-foot piece of

The bamboo hit the peak of the PC's cap, denting it. The defendant then ran across the road, but was caught there again by the PC.

In the struggle that followed, the beggar hit the PC again with the bamboo, and when the PC fell to the ground he hit him once more. The Constable then got to his feet and drew his truncheon to apprehend the defendant. As he did so, defendant struck his arm with the bamboo and continued to struggle. Finally, the PC drew his revolver. Defendant started to run away, so the Constable opened fire. Of his four shots, one struck the defendant on the heel.

In Court this morning it was found the PC suffered a torn shirt, a black eye and a large lump on his forchead. The prosecuting officer, Det. Sub-Insp. Chan Chuck-kay, remarked "It was lucky the Constable was wearing his hat, he might have been killed."
